

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in joining your company as a Junior Full Stack Developer or in a related IT role. I recently graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Information Technology from the Technological Institute of the Philippines, and I am eager to apply the technical skills and practical experience I have gained through my internship, freelance work, and academic projects.

I worked as a Full Stack Developer and IT Support Intern at J-K Network Services. One of my main accomplishments was independently developing the company's internal inventory and IT asset management system. I designed the MySQL database, developed the back end using PHP, and created the user interface using HTML and CSS. The system is still being used by the company today. I also assembled, configured, and deployed 19 desktop workstations and provided day-to-day technical support for hardware, software, and operating system issues.

I also worked remotely as a Freelance Data Management Assistant for Alpha Iota in Malaysia. In this role, I maintained and updated company data across spreadsheets and internal systems, reviewed records for errors and inconsistencies, assisted with documentation, and helped organize digital files. Working remotely strengthened my attention to detail, communication skills, time management, and ability to work independently.

In addition to my professional experience, I have developed full-stack web applications and other technical projects using PHP, MySQL, JavaScript, HTML, CSS, ReactJS, C#, Python, Unity, and other technologies. I enjoy learning new tools and technologies when a project requires them. For example, I taught myself Unity while leading the development of our educational game capstone project.

As a recent graduate, I am looking for an opportunity where I can continue developing my skills while contributing to real projects and supporting a team. I am dependable, willing to learn, and comfortable taking ownership of tasks and solving problems independently.

I would appreciate the opportunity to discuss how my experience and skills could contribute to your organization. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

John Rendell L. Fuerte
09615048679
fuertejohnrendell@gmail.com